Hey there people!

I've had the good fortune of having first hand experience with the power of audio.

My monthly subscription based audio program Powerideas is a multi million naira asset that continually opens doors for me.

As experts on the path to highly paid status...I believe we all need to take full advantage of this medium....and to be honest I don't know of a better person to help you achieve that than our very own Dayo Samuel.

Dayo will be hosting a one day podcast launch workshop where in one day you basically launch your podcast.

I whole heartedly recommend it to HPEN.

If you're going to be in Lagos ...plan to be apart of this...check out details here.

You and Tara Ene like this.

Steve Harris Agreed. I've learned so much (and still learning) from everyone here. My philosophy echoes Paul of Tarsus who said 'not as if I had attained, either were perfect, but forgetting the (successes) that are behind, I press forward towards a mark of a higher calling. I agree that we must be humble enough to learn from everyone, no matter how far along they've come. I admire the social media goddess Steph Obi as to how she develops online courses, the writing style and touring ability of Emeka Nobisa he takes his writers class around the country, the acumen of Igbinoba Esohewho constantly makes me feel like I wasted my 20s and of course the creativity of Victor Ekpo Basseywhose Pay As You Want model freaking scares me, not to mention, the suave disruption of John Obidi, the ruthless Remi Owadokun who has redefined Health Coaching and how Dayo Samuelhas taken  podcasting to a new level. While most folks could look at y'all as competition, I see you as collaborators to build an industry. Don't be threatened, that's insecurity. So hey, let's learn from each other (especially when it's paid) and be humble enough to say 'Hey, I don't know how... please help" Nuff said. Sorry, I always tend to write tonnes...

MENTIONS & FEATURES

Dayo is Rocking it!

by: Omar Zenhom (United States)

Dayo is having a blast on this show and it's inspiring. Leadership is so important and it's great to get his perspective on all aspects of leadership. It's nice to see our fellow podcasters in Nigeria are making it happen! -Omar Zenhom, The $100 MBA Show

Great Stuff!

Great show. I look forward to these motivational insights each week.

MENTIONS & FEATURES

Bukola Adeolu-Dele I really want to say a BIG THANK YOU to Dayo for allowing us to benefit from his wealth of wisdom at no cost! I was determined that despite my tight schedules, I'd deliberately put myself through these 7 days challenge. It was just day 2 yesterday and I'm awed already! It's amazing what I've found on the reviews all pointing to areas I can cash in on. Truly.... there are some heights you can't attain without some people. DAYO is one of such. Thanks again Dayo Samuel and congrats to everyone on board this podcast network!

The screenshot shows a messaging application interface. At the top, a message from "Seun Ogunmola | Solutions Evangelist" is displayed, with the URL "www.seunogunmola.com.ng - Content is King" below it. The message content is: "I follow you religiously. You are doing a great job helping folks create huge platforms out of nothing but recording devices. Kudos." Below this, a reply from "Dayo Samuel • Audacity2Lead.com" is shown, with the text "E seun sir 😊 I hail". At the bottom of the screen, there is an input field labeled "Enter message" and various message composition icons.
